

COUNT ME IN!

Name:

It's believed that 20,000 Nepalese women will become victims of Human Trafficking this year. For most, this will be the last time they will ever see their families again, and they will live out the rest of their short lives treated worse than animals. This year, Captivating International aims to intercept and rescue 3,000 of these women. But to do this, they need our help. This act is more life changing than New Zealanders can even begin to imagine.
